Noxious Weed in Residential Zones

Noxious weeds threaten the natural resources of the Town as well as the health, quality of life and property values within the community. A characteristic of all noxious weeds is their aggressive behavior and they typically steal precious moisture, nutrients and sunlight from the surrounding plants and grasses. Prevention keeps weeds out of our fields, yards and the entire community.

The Town of Lochbuie requires residents to maintain their lawn and keep their property free of weeds. The expectation is that the property will be mowed weekly to maintain weeds and grass at a height of less than 5 inches. This includes rear yards, to the back of the sidewalk, outside the fence, in garden areas, within rock areas and the sides of driveways.

REMINDER: The Town REQUIRES residents to maintain the lawn and weeds in their yards.

With yard sale season upon us the Town of Lochbuie would like to remind residents that it is illegal under state law to place signs in the right-of-way of all public roads. These include signs placed on traffic signs, staked in the medians, tacked on utility poles and nailed to fences.

Please only place yard sale signs on your own private property or other private property where you have received permission. Thank you for your cooperation!
